16-year-old Palestinian activist Ahed Tamimi has together with her family for years bravely stood up against the Israeli occupation. But she now faces up to 10 years in prison over an altercation with Israeli soldiers.

I call on the Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu to:

- release, without any delay, 16-year-old Palestinian activist Ahed Tamimi, who could face up to 10 years in prison;
- ensure that Palestinian children are not subjected to detention or imprisonment except in cases where it is demonstrably necessary and proportionate as a last resort for the shortest appropriate period of time.
